

Ágnes Alföldy-Găzdac

Charon's Obol –
between Religious Fervour
and Daily Life Pragmatism
*Ergo et inter mortuos
avaritia vivit...

MINISTRY OF CULTURE AND NATIONAL IDENTITY
NATIONAL HISTORY MUSEUM OF TRANSYLVANIA

BIBLIOTHECA MUSEI NAPOCENSIS

LIII

Ágnes Alföldy-Găzdac

Charon's Obol – between Religious Fervour and Daily Life Pragmatism

*Ergo et inter mortuos
avaritia vivit...*

*Coins in funerary contexts –
Roman Dacia vs Pannonia*

Mega Publishing House
Cluj-Napoca
2018

Cover design: Francisc Baja
English translation: Gabriela Cristina Balica
Copy editing: Ana Maria Gruia
Supervisor: Cristian Găzdac

Cover image: Hermes conducting a Soul to Charon. Ancient terracotta: http://obvil.sorbonne-universite.site/corpus/mythographie/html/gayley_classic-myths_1898.html (accessed on 1.11.2018)

Descrierea CIP a Bibliotecii Naționale a României

Găzdac, Ágnes

Charon's obol: between religious fervour and daily life pragmatism : coins in funerary contexts: Roman Dacia vs Pannonia /

Ágnes Găzdac. – Cluj-Napoca: Mega, 2019

Conține bibliografie

ISBN 978-606-020-044-4

903

© Ágnes Alföldy-Găzdac, 2018

EDITURA MEGA | www.edituramega.ro
e-mail: mega@edituramega.ro

CONTENTS

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS.....	9
INTRODUCTION	11
METHODOLOGY	15
CHAPTER I. ROMAN FUNERARY ANTHROPOLOGY. ROMAN FUNERAL RITES IN THE LIGHT OF LITERARY AND ICONOGRAPHIC SOURCES.....	19
CHAPTER II. LITERARY AND ICONOGRAPHIC SOURCES ON THE MYTH OF CHARON FOCUSING ON THE ANCIENT TRADITION OF PAYING THE FERRYMAN'S FEE.....	28
CHAPTER III. COIN OFFERINGS IN FUNERARY CONTEXTS.....	47
A. DACIA	47
B. PANNONIA.....	76
CONCLUSIONS.....	102
THE REPERTORY OF CEMETERIES.....	110
A. DACIA.....	110
B. PANNONIA.....	126
LIST OF ILLUSTRATIONS.....	136
LIST OF TABLES	137
LIST OF GRAPHS.....	139
BIBLIOGRAPHY.....	143
CATALOGUE.....	155
LIST OF ABBREVIATIONS.....	278
TABLES.....	279
GRAPHS.....	303
MAP.....	365

Familia Aeterna
To Cristian, because he is my heart
To Mark and Flora, because they are my soul

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Such a topic, through its historical relevance, chronological and geographical bearings, and high quantity of numismatic, archaeological, and epigraphic material requiring examination, could not have been completed without the support of several special persons.

I am truly grateful to Professor Nicolae Gudea, the supervisor of my doctoral dissertation. His professional advice was essential to the draft of this work. In all these years, he has patiently guided me through all aspects entailed by the study of coin finds in funerary contexts.

Also, I wish to thank Dr. Torbágyi Melinda (Director of the Numismatic Cabinet with the Hungarian National Museum) who offered many precious suggestions during my documentation stays in Budapest. Her Cabinet has always been open to everyone willing to study this captivating historical science.

I am grateful to Dr. Kocsis László (Director of the Roman History Department with the Hungarian National Museum) who has facilitated access for the study of inventory ledgers and unique materials discovered in the cemeteries at Brigetio.

Professor Gabler Dénes was a mentor to me during the time I examined materials in the libraries of research institutions in Budapest. His cooperation not only granted me access to all information regarding the material culture of Roman Pannonia, but was also an example of the professor-disciple relation.

My gratitude goes to the team of researchers with the National Museum of the Union in Alba Iulia, who generously provided me with novel numismatic materials for study. Especially, I wish to thank Constantin Inel, Horia Ciugudean, Radu Ota, George Bounegru and Anca Timofan, not only for allowing me to study coins discovered during their excavations, but particularly for their friendly welcome each time.

Among the specialists from Cluj-Napoca I would like to thank Dr. Sorin Cociş for allowing me to study the numismatic and archaeological material unpublished at the time yielded by the excavations conducted in the cemeteries from Alburnus Maior. Dr. Livia Călian, former custodian of the Numismatic Cabinet of the National Museum of Transylvanian History, colleague and tutor in the field of numismatic records of the Museum, has continuously supported my efforts for the completion of the doctoral dissertation.

I express my gratitude to Dr. Gică Băeştean (Museum of the Roman Town – Sarmizegetusa) for kindly sending me pictures of a funerary stela on display there.

Moreover, I also thank Dr. Alexandru Sonoc for the information regarding the coins in the collection of the Brukenthal National Museum, Sibiu.

The research scholarship awarded by the Katolische Akademische Ausländer Dienst due to which I was able to use the facilities of the libraries and institutes of Frankfurt am Main (Germany) was crucial for the completion of this dissertation. I hereby thank the selection committee as well. Those six months were indispensable for gathering the primary and secondary sources as regards the study of the myth of Charon and the custom of funerary coin depositions. In Frankfurt I had the opportunity to discuss with famous scholars in the field of Roman history and funerary archaeology. For their precious suggestions and open and friendly demeanour I wish to thank especially Professors from Frankfurt Maria Alföldi, Peter Fasod, Joachim Gorecki, the late Professor Géza Alföldy from Heidelberg, as well as Dr. Marion Witteyer from Mainz.

My attendance at the International Congresses of Numismatics (Glasgow 2009, Taormina 2015) was a professional satisfaction not only through the opportunity of presenting part of this research, but also through the relations established with world-known specialists as a result. I mention here Professor Claudia Perassi, from the Università Cattolica del Sacro Cuore in Milan. She is a reputed scholar in the field of numismatics, especially in coinage iconography and socio-anthropologic analysis of monetary contexts. Our discussions regarding my papers have confirmed the validity of my approach direction of the issue. Later, she has sent me most of her works regarding the studied topic, inaccessible in Romania, for which I am truly indebted.

I am grateful to my professors from the Ancient History and Archaeology Department of the Faculty of History and Philosophy of the Babeş-Bolyai University of Cluj-Napoca. From them I have acquired most important information regarding the material and spiritual life of Roman Dacia (Professor Ioan Piso – epigraphy, Professor Mihai Bărbulescu – spiritual life, Professor Radu Ardevan – numismatics).

I wish to especially thank Dr. Ligia Ruscu who has kindly translated a few Greek texts for me and has proofread the chapter entitled Literary and iconographic sources regarding the myth of Charon.

Last but not least, I wish to thank my family for their continued support and understanding throughout all of these years. My children, Mark and Flora, who were born and grew together with this research, have shown patience and endless love, without which I would not have been able to complete my professional projects.

I cannot emphasize enough how much the support of my husband, Cristian Găzdac, has meant for me, in all of my professional and personal endeavours. He was the true mentor of this work. The few hundreds of pages of specialty literature he photocopied for me in the great libraries of Europe, his extremely useful advice, his intense, but always constructive criticism, and the painstaking corrections he often made under the pressure of time, form the groundwork onto which this book lies. I thank him with all my love!